

Golf Clash – User Interface Guide

This guide is best viewed while playing Golf Clash on your device.

Step 1: How Do I Learn to Shoot?

On the home page, tap the gear  button in the upper-left to watch and play a Tutorial. Take a few practice shots each time you choose the tutorial.

Repeat the Tutorial. Take practice shots as needed before you try a 1x1 match. Try to:

- Take shots when the two blue arrows line up. See if you can make shots that are Great or Perfect.
- With a tee shot, pull the ball to the bottom of the blue circle to get more power.
- With a putt, see what visually happens to the hole if you pull the ball back too far or not enough.
- If the hole is blue-highlighted, you should make the putt.
- Try a few missed putts. With a putt, aim off to the side and release when the arrow is off-center. What happens?

- Choose a 1vs1 game
- Choose a course such as Beginner

The following screen appears (your screen's details will differ):

Explanations follow:

1	Name - Your and your opponent's account name in Golf Clash. You can change the name only once for your account, so choose wisely.
2	Clan name - Your and your opponent's clan name in Golf Clash. You can join a clan after you reach the rank of Rookie I. All golfers start as a Beginner rank. A clan name appears only if you join a clan.
3	The direction of the wind.
4	The speed of the wind. Wind can impact your landing area and where your ball goes, but it does not appear in any ball guides. Wind increases with the higher tours.
5	Change in elevation. Like the wind coming toward you or behind you, this can impact how far your ball does or does not go. Like the wind, your club's landing zone and guide line do not take this in account..

Step 4: Tips for Your First 1vs1 Match

When it is your turn to shoot, you have a limited amount of time before the game times-out your shot.

Before you shoot, try to tap the ball icon in the upper-right. You can:

- Add forward or back spin to your ball by pulling the ball to the top or the bottom of the blue circle before you release it.
- Move arrow to the left or right side before you release it. This will add side-spin or curl the ball after it lands. Some balls permit side-spin. You can use both side-spin and curl on a shot.

Who am I Playing Against?

Golf Clash chooses your opponents based on the opponent with the closest trophy count. So you may end up playing opponents of different ranks.

Your opponent may or may not have a profile picture (enabled using Facebook). Below the profile picture, the top banner (in the orange box below) shows the golfer's trophy count and their rank, such as green for Rookie, blue for Professional:

The top banner's background color indicates the rank:

Below the top banner, a player's profile will have banners if they qualified for a tournament. The banner color indicates the tourney rank type, such as Blue for Pro. If a tournament banner has grey on its ends, this indicates the golfer made it to the final round.
